

The Endocrine System

The role of the endocrine system is to

Daily and long term activities of the body

The endocrine system is made up of small sac like organs called

These organs produce chemicals called

A hormone produced by this gland is

The hormone produced by this gland is The endocrine system turns itself on and off by the condition it creates. It works as a system

Here are the major endocrine glands

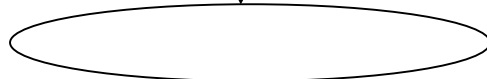

Links endocrine and nervous system, and controls other glands controls growth and other glands

Controls energy

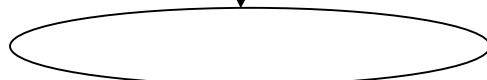

controls calcium levels

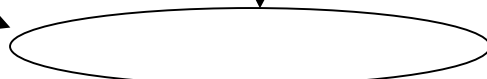

Responds to emergency

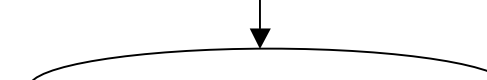

Helps fight infection

Controls sugar levels

Controls reproductive functions in females

Controls reproductive functions in males

